

Fun with Clichés

Joseph Sigalas

Write a letter from a pet animal to its human using as many of these clichés (or others) as you can.

A dime a dozen

At the end of the day

Barking up the wrong tree

Between a rock and a hard place

Bite the bullet

Burn the candle at both ends

By the skin of your teeth

Comparing apples to oranges

Don't burn your bridges

Don't count your chickens before they hatch

Don't beat a dead horse

Don't make waves

Don't shoot yourself in the foot

From the frying pan and into the fire

Get over it

Get real

Get your head out of the clouds

Grab the bull by the horns

Head-over-heels

If you play with fire, you're going to get burned

In a jam

It's an uphill battle

It's not over till the fat lady sings

It's raining cats and dogs

Kill two birds with one stone

Last time I checked...

Man-up

Money doesn't grow on trees

Needle in a haystack

Right on the nose

Seriously?

The apple doesn't fall far from the tree

The grass is always greener on the other side

Think outside the box

This is the real world

Walk a mile in my shoes

We're all in the same boat

When pigs fly
