

Week 2: Written Homework

Show, Don't Tell!

For three of the Showing vs. Telling scenarios below, write a separate paragraph (three or four sentences at least) that SHOWS the idea in the scenario. Paint a picture with your words!

(Hint: If it helps, think of these sentences as topic sentences and your sentences as the paragraph body. For creative writing, however, we would most likely take the scenario sentences out later.)

The lady was rude.

He didn't like the coffee.

The fish surprised us.

He was hiding the donut he took from his dad's plate.

The old gorilla was struggling to get across the street.

Grandpa was super excited that it was almost time for Barney the Dinosaur.

The cool car was really fast.

The child ate sloppily.

The dog was disgusting.
